

$20,000 LOSS IN RESTAURANT FIRE ON SUNDAY

Pine Brook park restaurant, 12 miles west of Gettysburg on a section of the old Lincoln highway, and adjoining the Caledonia Park theater, burned to the ground late Sunday night, with loss estimated at nearly $20,000, partly covered by insurance. The property was formerly known as Newman's park.

C. W. Bender, proprietor of the restaurant, said the fire was caused by an oil burner furnace. The restaurant was open, although there were no customers at the time. Mr. Bender's wife and daughter were in the restaurant when they discovered the flames. Mr. Bender was in a cabin back of the building.

So rapid was the spread of the fire that only the cash register was saved from the interior of the building and four chairs from the porch. The Benders lost all their personal effects, together with several valuable pieces of antique furniture and all the restaurant equipment.

Three Companies Called

Cashtown firemen were called at 11 o'clock, but the building was beyond saving when they arrived. There was no water available nearby except that carried by the Cashtown trucks. Gettysburg and Chambersburg fire departments were asked for help to prevent the spread of the fire to adjoining buildings and cabins and to the pine forest back of the property. The Gettysburg fire department received the call at 11:15 p.m. and sent its service truck and two pumps. Chambersburg responded with a truck and a 1,000-gallon tank-pumper of the Franklin Fire company.

The story and a half frame building burned quickly and in 20 minutes had been reduced to ground level. A small building immediately in the rear caught fire but this blaze was extinguished with a booster line. Paint was scorched on the nearest cabin. The Benders had their living quarters on the second floor of the restaurant building. They lost all their clothing except what they were wearing.

Several booster lines were used to wet down the ruins and keep sparks from spreading the fire. There was very little wind. Booster tanks were replenished by the Cashtown and Gettysburg trucks from a small stream close to the Lincoln highway west of the property.

Crowds Of Curious

Gettysburg firemen were directed by Chief Donald Jacobs and Assistant Chiefs Donald McSherry and Donald Staab. Chief Owen Bucher was in charge of the Cashtown Fire company. Gettysburg firemen returned to the engine house at 2:30 a.m.

At the height of the fire, flames could be seen for a considerable distance, and the reflection attracted hundreds of motorists. Firemen said charges would probably be filed against several motorists for following the fire trucks too closely.

Mr. Bender has been the owner of the Pine Brook park for about two years. He purchased it from Charles Fetters. It had previously been owned by Paul Rebert. Until the construction of the new Lincoln highway, it had stood on the main road between Gettysburg and Chambersburg. The new road was constructed through a cut just west of the Buchanan Valley road intersection and left the park off the main highway just west of the crest of Mt. Newman.

State Policeman Jack Arms, of the state fire marshal's office, Harrisburg, conducted an investigation this morning into the cause of the fire.

Bender, owner of the restaurant, suffered minor burns and a cut on the hands. He was given first aid treatment by Gettysburg firemen.

FINAL ACCOUNT IN HUMPERT'S ESTATE FILED

The final account in the estate of Herbert L. Humpert, victim of a claw hammer slaying at his home in Tyre township several years ago, was approved by the Adams county court this morning.

The account took care of the distribution of $1,310 which had been a Commonwealth exhibit in the murder trial in 1947 against Robert L. Staley and Ray H. Simmons. Simmons was executed and Staley is now serving a life sentence.

The money was obtained from a "girl friend" of Staley's after his apprehension and was alleged by the Commonwealth to be money he had obtained from Humpert's home during the night of the murder.

After the death of Probation Officer B. E. Bixler, the money was turned over to the county clerk of the courts, at the request of the Bixler estate, and remained there while various motions were placed by Staley and others that the money be turned to them.

Driver Gets 30 Days

Final disposition was made on a request from the clerk of courts to pay the money into the Humpert estate. Minus various fees, the total sum, $1,171, was divided among eight heirs with most receiving $146.38 and several $146.37.

Action on the account of Myrtle Smith, executor of the will of Florence S. Showers, late of Menallen township, was postponed, with attorneys stating they wished to hold further consultation with the state Department of Public Assistance concerning an objection the department made to a bill for $725 for Florence Showers' funeral. The estate totalled $959.64 and after necessary expenses were deducted $70.16 was left for the Department of Public Assistance. It sought $431.50 from the estate.

Olden Shultz, Biglerville R. 2, was sentenced to 30 days in the Adams county jail on a charge of drunken driving, and ordered to pay $50 for use of the county and the costs, when he appeared before the county court this morning for sentence.

County Sailor Robbed Enroute To His Home

Ned R. Crouse, Gettysburg R. 1, near Two Taverns, met the "meanest man in the world" while coming home for his current leave from the navy.

The electronics technician third class received a leave when his ship docked on the west coast. An air force pilot carried him by plane to Chicago, where he decided to hitchhike. Picked up by a man who said he was going to Pittsburgh, Crouse agreed to take a pill to "keep him awake" along with the driver during the night. He now believes the pill was a knock-out drop — but it only made him ill. Later the Pittsburgh-bound man stopped the car at a restaurant, 15 miles from Port Wayne, Ind. When Crouse went into the restaurant, the man drove away — taking with him Crouse's clothing and equipment he was bringing home with him.

Discover Students Taking Auto Tires

Two Gettysburg college students, both juveniles under 18 years of age, were caught early today by borough police in what authorities said was an attempt to take the tires from a car at the rear of the home of Glenn Guise, North Stratton street.

Police said the pair had the Guise car jacked up and were in the act of removing the tires when Mr. Guise heard them and called police. When Officer Daniel Miller arrived, the youths jumped into a car and drove away, after nearly running down the officer. They were traced to the college, police said.

Miller conferred this afternoon with Judge W. C. Sheely before placing charges.

6th Pennsylvania Week Opens; Fine Says State Has Everything

Harrisburg, Oct. 15 (AP)—Pennsylvania Week—that annual jubilee of showmanship and public spirit—opened today with festivities focusing wide attention on the state's achievements.

In one way or another, during the next six days, Pennsylvania's 10,000,000 will share in the celebration, the sixth of its kind.

The chief aim this year is to win the fullest local participation. State officials asked that each township, borough, town and city tell its story—historical, religious, industrial and economic—to its own people and to the state as a whole.

I. S. Sahli, Beaver Falls, chairman of the 1951 program, said "a wonderful job has been done by persons engaged in the promotion of Pennsylvania Week."

"When we suggested that the observance be a grass roots affair, stressing the defense theme, we wanted to have the committees themselves devise their own plans for participation. And they have done a magnificent job."

Gov. John S. Pine set the mood last night when he told a nationwide audience "Pennsylvania has everything. It is the outstanding industrial state in the union. It has the finest highways. The Pennsylv-

BULLETINS

Cairo, Oct. 15 (AP)—Egypt rejected tonight a Western invitation to become a key stone of the proposed Allied Middle East command. Foad Sirag Edin Pasha, minister of the interior and finance, announced the government's decision to a wildly cheering session of Parliament. He is strong man in the governing Wafd party.

Thousands of excited Egyptians milled around the outside of Parliament as the announcement was made. It amounted to total rejection of the Western proposal that an international force supplant British troops now defending the Suez Canal.

Lausanne, Switzerland, Oct. 15 (AP)—Charles E. Davis testified today that he sent a telegram to former U. S. Minister John Carter Vincent in Bern a year ago in an effort to discredit the diplomat.

Davis, 34-year-old Pasadena, Calif., Negro, went on trial today before a five-man Swiss federal criminal court charged with political espionage. The Swiss government alleges Davis was employed by an agent of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) to gather information concerning U. S. diplomatic personnel in Switzerland.

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen said today it is "unbelievable" that Ambassador Philip C. Jessup took no part in 1949 conferences on the question of shutting off U. S. military aid to the Chinese Nationalists. Official records indicate that Jessup did, Stassen told a Senate foreign relations subcommittee. (Please Turn to Page 2)

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—An Iranian spokesman today closed the door to any further talks with Britain on the oil dispute except on the questions of indemnities and the sale of oil.

RELATES STORY OF CONEWAGO AT PILGRIMAGE

The story of Conewago chapel, one of the earliest centers of the Catholic faith in the United States, was told Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Fr. Harold Keller to more than 1,000 present for a pilgrimage by the Southern Regional Holy Name Union.

Led by the Delone high school band, more than 400 Holy Name members from Adams, Franklin and York counties marched from the mass house about a half mile north of Conewago chapel to the chapel itself.

Father Keller said that the mass house is on the site where the first masses were said in the Conewago area early in the 18th century. The house was a home where a room was set aside for saying masses when the priests were in the vicinity.

The procession passed the sites of two churches built by the Jesuits prior to the construction of the chapel.

Founded With Nation

"When the founders of our nation were writing the constitution on which our land of freedom is founded, the men of this area were carrying stones from near Abbots-town for the construction of this church in which we are now gathered. Our nation and Conewago chapel, the church we know today, were founded at the same time," Father Keller said.

"America's first bishop, John Carroll, was familiar with this church. He walked in the same aisle along which you men marched into the church. Conewago was the principal (Please Turn to Page 2)

UN Troops Take Strategic Peak And Four Hilltops; Cease-Fire Negotiations Can't Get Started

Musan, Korea, Oct. 15 (AP)—Allied and Red liaison officers wrangled for three hours in Panmunjom today but got nowhere in their efforts to get the stalled cease-fire talks started again.

Only hopeful sign noted was an agreement to meet again tomorrow at 10 a.m. (8 p.m. Monday, EST). An official UN statement said the Reds continued to insist on a five-mile neutral zone around Kaesong, former site of negotiations. The Allies want the five miles reduced to 3,000 yards—less than two miles.

This, and a Red demand that security arrangements be settled by the main delegations rather than by liaison officers, appeared to be the main stumbling blocks in getting three sessions underway again.

Admit Allied Strafing

One potential threat to the resumption of talks apparently was removed with the Allied admission that three UN warplanes strafe the Kaesong-Panmunjom area late Friday afternoon.

Unofficial Communist sources indicated the Reds consider the incident closed.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway Sunday night accepted UN responsibility and promised prompt disciplinary action. The supreme Allied commander also expressed his "heartfelt grief" at the death of a 12-year-old Korean boy and the wounding of the boy's two-year-old brother in the attacks.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nickols, an official UN spokesman, said Monday's liaison meeting ended on an "inconclusive note."

The final account in the estate of Herbert L. Humpert, victim of a claw hammer slaying at his home in Tyrone township several years ago, was approved by the Adams county court this morning.

The account took care of the distribution of $1,310 which had been a Commonwealth exhibit in the murder trial in 1947 against Robert L. Staley and Ray H. Simmons. Simmons was executed and Staley is now serving a life sentence.

The money was obtained from a "girl friend" of Staley's after his apprehension and was alleged by the Commonwealth to be money he had obtained from Humpert's home during the night of the murder.

After the death of Probation Officer B. E. Bixler, the money was turned over to the county clerk of the courts, at the request of the Bixler estate, and remained there while various motions were placed by Staley and others that the money belonged to them.

Driver Gets 30 Days

Final disposition was made on a request from the clerk of courts to pay the money into the Humpert estate. Minus various fees, the total sum, $1,171, was divided among eight heirs with most receiving $146.38 and several $146.37.

Action on the account of Myrtle Smith, executor of the will of Florence S. Showers, late of Menallen township, was postponed, with attorneys stating they wished to hold further consultation with the state Department of Public Assistance concerning an objection the department made to a bill for $725 for Florence Showers' funeral. The estate totalled $959.64 and after necessary expenses were deducted $70.16 was left for the Department of Public Assistance. It sought $431.90 from the estate.

County Sailor Robbed Enroute To His Home

Ned R. Crouse, Gettysburg R. 1, near Two Taverns, met the "meanest man in the world" while coming home for his current leave from the navy.

The electronics technician third class received a leave when his ship docked on the west coast. An air force pilot carried him by plane to Chicago, where he decided to hitchhike. Picked up by a man who said he was going to Pittsburgh, Crouse agreed to take a pill to "keep him awake" along with the driver during the night. He now believes the pill was a knock-out drop—but it only made him ill. Later the Pittsburgh-bound man stopped the car at a restaurant, 15 miles from Port Wayne, Ind. When Crouse went into the restaurant, the man drove away—taking with him Crouse's clothing and equipment he was bringing home with him.

Discover Students Taking Auto Tires

Two Gettysburg college students, both juveniles under 18 years of age, were caught early today by borough police in what authorities said was an attempt to take the tires from a car at the rear of the home of Glenn Guise, North Stratton street.

Police said the pair had the Guise car jacked up and were in the act of removing the tires when Mr. Guise heard them and called police. When Officer Daniel Miller arrived, the youths jumped into a car and drove away, after nearly running down the officer. They were traced to the college, police said.

Miller conferred this afternoon with Judge W. C. Sheely before placing charges.

6th Pennsylvania Week Opens; Fine Says State Has Everything

Harrisburg, Oct. 15 (AP)—Pennsylvania Week—that annual jubilee of showmanship and public spirit—opened today with festivities focusing wide attention on the state's achievements.

In one way or another, during the next six days, Pennsylvania's 10,000,000 will share in the celebration, the sixth of its kind.

The chief aim this year is to win the fullest local participation. State officials asked that each township, borough, town and city tell its story—historical, religious, industrial and economic—to its own people and to the state as a whole.

I. S. Sahli, Beaver Falls, chairman of the 1951 program, said "a wonderful job has been done by persons engaged in the promotion of Pennsylvania Week."

"When we suggested that the observance be a grass roots affair, stressing the defense theme, we wanted to have the committees themselves devise their own plans for participation. And they have done a magnificent job."

Gov. John S. Pine set the mood last night when he told a nationwide audience "Pennsylvania has everything. It is the outstanding industrial state in the union. It has the finest highways. The Pennsyl-

Thousands of excited Egyptians milled around the outside of Parliament as the announcement was made. It amounted to total rejection of the Western proposal that an international force supplant British troops now defending the Suez Canal.

The Swiss government alleges Davis was employed by an agent of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) to gather information concerning U. S. diplomatic personnel in Switzerland.

Both paid fines of $10 and costs to Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore. Firemen said charges of following too close behind fire trucks would be filed against other drivers.

RELATES STORY OF CONEWAGO AT PILGRIMAGE

The story of Conewago chapel, one of the earliest centers of the Catholic faith in the United States, was told Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Fr. Harold Keller to more than 1,000 present for a pilgrimage by the Southern Regional Holy Name Union.

Led by the Delone high school band, more than 400 Holy Name members from Adams, Franklin and York counties marched from the mass house about a half mile north of Conewago chapel to the chapel itself.

Father Keller said that the mass house is on the site where the first masses were said in the Conewago area early in the 18th century. The house was a home where a room was set aside for saying masses when the priests were in the vicinity.

The procession passed the sites of two churches built by the Jesuits prior to the construction of the chapel.

Founded With Nation

"When the founders of our nation were writing the constitution on which our land of freedom is founded, the men of this area were carrying stones from near Abbotstown for the construction of this church in which we are now gathered. Our nation and Conewago chapel, the church we know today, were founded at the same time," Father Keller said.

"America's first bishop, John Carroll, was familiar with this church. He walked in the same aisle along which you men marched into the church. Conewago was the principal (Please Turn to Page 2)

UN Troops Take Strategic Peak And Four Hilltops; Cease-Fire Negotiations Can't Get Started

Munsan, Korea, Oct. 15 (AP)—Allied and Red liaison officers wrangled for three hours in Panmunjon today but got nowhere in their efforts to get the stalled cease-fire talks started again.

Only hopeful sign noted was an agreement to meet again tomorrow at 10 a.m. (8 p.m., Monday, EST).

An official U.N. summary said the Reds continued to insist on a five-mile neutral zone around Kaesong, former site of negotiations. The Allies want the five miles reduced to 3,000 yards—less than two miles.

This, and a Red demand that security arrangements be settled by the main delegations rather than by liaison officers, appeared to be the main stumbling blocks in getting truce sessions underway again.

Admit Allied Straggle

One potential threat to the resumption of talks apparently was removed with the Allied admission that three U.N. warplanes strafed the Kaesong-Panmunjon area late Friday afternoon.

Unofficial Communist sources indicated the Reds consider the incident closed.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway Sunday night accepted U.N. responsibility and promised prompt disciplinary action. The supreme Allied commander also expressed his "heartfelt grief" at the death of a 12-year-old Korean boy and the wounding of the boy's two-year-old brother in the attacks.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls, an official U.N. spokesman, said Monday's liaison meeting ended on an "inconclusive note."

RELATES STORY

Catholic church in the United States, outside of Baltimore itself, when our nation was founded. From it went the Jesuit priests who were missionaries throughout this section, and throughout western Pennsylvania.

"At the time Conewago was built, Bishop Carroll said that there were but 3,000 Catholics whom he could enumerate in the U. S.

Had 6,000 Members

"Today there are 30,000,000 Catholics in the country. Conewago Chapel rose from a few members to a parish of 6,000. As churches were established in Gettysburg, Buchanan Valley and in York county, the number of parishioners at Conewago declined. But this is the mother church, and we hope that you will look upon Conewago as belonging not only to its present parishioners but to all, as a heritage of the beginnings of Catholicism in this area."

"Its history extends 230 and possibly 250 years back into the early beginnings of our nation—back before we were a nation. Its graveyard is the burying place of men who fought in every war of our country—including the French and Indian war. This year marks the 200th anniversary of the first resident pastor here, the 100th anniversary of the consecration of the present enlarged church—for the original church on this site, built in 1789, was enlarged in 1851, and the 50th anniversary of the departure of the Jesuit fathers, who after 200 years of service from Conewago turned it over to the diocese in 1901 in order to continue their missionary activities elsewhere."

Approximately 100 Boy Scouts, carrying American and Scout flags, joined the 20 Holy Name societies represented for the pilgrimage. The American and Troop flags and Holy Name banners were banked at the sides of the church during the service. The Annunciation parish Holy Name choir of McSherrystown sang the "Ave Maria." Rev. Fr. Cyril Alwein, Chambersburg, led the rosary and Holy Name pledge. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, McSherrystown, officiated at solemn benediction closing the pilgrimage.

Third Period Field Goal Gives Lehig 9-7 Win Over Bullets

A much improved Gettysburg college football team gave the favored Lehig university gridgers a hectic afternoon here Saturday before 3,000 fans but succumbed 9-7, a 19-yard field goal by Walt Trillhase late in the third period giving the Engineers their advantage.

The fighting Bullets outplayed their heavier opponents throughout the first half and at the half time intermission had come from behind to take a 7-6 lead. However, in the second half the visitors kept play confined mostly to Gettysburg territory and protected its 2-point margin to the finish.

Lehig scored the first time it got its hands on the ball. The Bullets received the opening kickoff and, after failing to gain the required yardage for a first down, punted. Bot Hottle's boot being taken by Westfall on the Lehig 27. On the first play, Herb Weiss faded back and fired a long pass to John Bergman, Engineer end, who was all alone on the Bullets' 32 from where he raced for a score. Trillhase's kick for the point was no good after it struck the crossbar.

Assessed by Decision
An official's decision against the Bullets midway in the first quarter seemed to arouse the Bullets to fighting fury and they held the upper hand thereafter until half time. Lehig had possession of the ball on its own 15 when Weiss threw what appeared to be a lateral to practically everyone present. The ball went wide and Dick Thomas recovered on the 15. However, the pitch was called a grounded forward pass and Lehig retained possession to boot out to its 41.

Play immediately began to wax hot. Paced by Tony Natale, Earl Yost and Vince Rossetti, the Bullets picked up two first downs to Lehig's 29 but the drive was halted when Bobby Bitner was tossed back on the 38 on an attempted pass and he then punted to the Lehig 13.

An exchange of 15-yard penalties plus a 13 yard loss when the Bullets forward wall crashed through to spill Weiss on his 4, put the visitors in hot water near the close of the first period. Weiss booted out to Yost who returned to the Lehig 30, from where Gettysburg moved to its touchdown.

Rossetti Scores
Three straight thrusts by Natale moved the ball to the 15 and then Bitner fired a pass to Gene Coder after which Rossetti cracked the line for a first down on the 2. After Natale advanced the ball to within inches of the goal on two plunges, Rossetti crashed through Bill Pratt booted the point to make the score 7-6 after 2:29 minutes.

Midway in the second frame the Bullets marched from their 24 to the Lehig 33 on some fine running by Natale and a Bitner-Hemberger aerial only to lose the ball at that point when Morgan recovered a fumble.

Early in the third period the Bullets had their best scoring chance of the second half when Bill Vignola, a fine performer, pounced on a fumble on the Lehig 19. The Engineers crashed through to spill Natale for a total of 7 yards loss on the next two plays. A pass failed and then Natale passed to Hemberger on the 13 but the yardage needed missed by 4 and Lehig took over on the 13.

From that point Lehig moved deep into Gettysburg loam where Trillhase booted his winning goal. Weiss passed to Scheussler for 36 yards to put the ball on the Bullets' 34. Kryla and Seal pounded through to the 4. The Bullet forward wall rose to the occasion and held Seal to 14 yards on two tries. A five-yard penalty against Lehig and an incomplete pass resulted in the field goal attempt which was eventually to decide the game.

Bullets Held
Near the end of the third quarter Pradetto recovered a Bullet fumble on the Gettysburg 38 and then Weiss fired a pass to Gunn on the 11. Again the Bream-men stood the test and took over on the 11. After several exchanges of punts Lehig moved from its 35 for two straight first downs but the threat expired when Dick McGee intercepted on the Bullets 33.

After Natale got eight yards on the first try, three more stabs were smothered and Lehig took over on the Gettysburg 40. The Engineers lost the ball to Gettysburg on the 24 after which Berkly Ward passed to Coder and Rossetti in succession to the 45. The game ended a few seconds later with Lehig in possession.

GOOD OFFENSE NOT ENOUGH FOR COLLEGE TEAMS

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Football coaches used to say that a good offense is the best defense, but that old saw doesn't seem to cut much wood in 1951 college football.

Five major college teams scored three touchdowns and still lost Saturday. Washington State even lost after scoring five times in a wild 42-35 scramble won by California. In fact, a survey of 37 major college games showed a majority of the losing teams scored at least two touchdowns. Only three of the games ended in shutouts for the losers.

When all the figures were compiled, it was hard to see who would lead the parade in the Associated Press' weekly poll of the nation's top ten teams.

SMU Upsets Notre Dame
Michigan state, ranked first last week just ahead of California, like California had a tough time in what figured to be an easy game and barely got past Marquette, 20-14.

The No. 3 and 4 teams, Tennessee and Texas A&M, romped to easy wins, and Notre Dame, No. 5, was upset by Southern Methodist, 27-20.

Texas, No. 6, edged Oklahoma, 9-7, breaking a three-year Souther streak over the Longhorns; Illinois, No. 7, toyed with Syracuse, 41-20; Georgia Tech, No. 8, whipped Louisiana State, 25-7; and Maryland, No. 10, crushed Georgia, 43-7. Ohio State, No. 9, had its second disappointing Saturday in a row and was happy to come off with a 6-6 tie against Wisconsin.

Much of the high-scoring high jinks came in the intersectional games, possible because of the difficulties colleges have scouting teams from hundreds of miles away. Alabama, like Notre Dame and Syracuse, scored three times only to lose to Villanova, 41-18, on Friday night.

Biggest Upset By Texas Tech
The southwest came off with most of the glory in the intersectional competition on victories by Southern Methodist, Texas and Rice, a 21-14 winner over Navy. The far west also scored with College of the Pacific's 21-7 beating of Clemson. But the midwest and south both had to be content with two wins and two losses. The east won two and lost four, while the Big Seven won one and lost two and the Skyline lost one.

Besides the intersectional games already mentioned, Tulane checked Holy Cross' vaunted offense to win, 20-14; Iowa walloped Pitt, 34-17; Penn State surprised Nebraska, 15-7; Anas downed Utah, 26-7; and Miami (Fla.) upset Purdue, 7-0, in another Friday night affair.

Biggest upset of the day came late Saturday night when little Texas Tech completed a 33-19 thumping of the Southwest Conference's Texas Christian. A Southern Conference surprise was William and Mary's 7-6 win over Wake Forest. While the same circuit had expected Duke to win by more than 27-21 against North Carolina State.

By HUGH FULLETON, JR.
New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—The University of Virginia faculty is demanding full control of athletics, along with a demand for "less professional" teams; that the U. of Nebraska profs want; de-emphasis, and at William and Mary the faculty is squawking because it wasn't consulted in naming a new college president as the aftermath of an athletic mess. . . . Only thing we want to know is whether the profs would put the football coach and athletic director in charge of the department of romance languages or chemistry. . . . Seems like it would be an even trade.

Fairfield Wins 1st Playoff Game 4-3

The Fairfield Shoe company team scored a run in the last of the ninth inning to defeat Harney 4-3 Sunday afternoon at Fairfield in the first of the best-of-three series for the playoff title of the Pennsylvania Baseball league.

A runner scored from third base when the Harney catcher missed the third strike on what would have been the final out to provide the margin. George Seifert hurled for the winners with John Dick receiving.

Next Sunday the series will resume at Harney.

MOUNT NAMES CAGE CAPTAINS

Two juniors have been elected to lead the Mount St. Mary's cagemen for the coming year. Ted Kachnowski and Jim McKeon will co-captain the team from guard positions.

Kachnowski is 23 years old and hails from New Britain, Conn. He has already won two varsity basketball letters. After playing at New Britain high, Ted played two years with Abereen Proving Ground and then captained the 2nd Army team at Ft. Meade, Md., during 1947-48. During his two seasons as a regular at the Mount Ted has averaged over 10 points per game. He is an excellent set shot.

McKeon was a surprise choice as co-captain. An all-state choice at Thomas Edison high in Elizabeth, N. J., Jim won letters at the Mount during his freshman and sophomore years. Last year, however, McKeon dropped out of school to work. Back this year as a junior he has looked well in early practices. Touted as a fine court man and reliable set shot, McKeon has begun to live up to the reputation that preceded him at the Mount. Kachnowski and McKeon have their jobs cut out for them with this year's Mountaineers since the team has very little actual game experience and is very small.

The loss of last year's stars Gene Janis, Les Cosgrove, Ed Planagan and Jim Montgomery strips the squad of its rebound strength, its scoring power, and much of its defensive ability.

SEEKS HELP ON TAX PROBLEMS

Harrisburg, Oct. 15 (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine has asked Pennsylvania's four largest state-aided colleges to help find a solution to the state's financial problems.

The governor sent telegrams over the week-end to the heads of the Pennsylvania State college, the University of Pennsylvania, Temple university and the University of Pittsburgh to set up a joint study of the revenue and tax problems.

"This situation very directly and seriously affects some universities and colleges of the state as well as the hospitals, schools and many other state services," the governor said in the telegram.

In other tax developments, Sen. John J. Haluska (D-Camden), Democratic Senate whip, said in Edensburg yesterday that he was offered "enough that I would not have to work for the rest of my life if I would withdraw my opposition to the income tax measure."

Six southeastern Pennsylvania Republican leaders including Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood held a four-hour closed meeting at an inn near Ambler but Wood said the income tax question was not discussed.

Atlanta, Oct. 15 (AP)—Tommy Hinnershitz of Reading, Pa., posted a new world's record for a 25-mile flat dirt track auto race yesterday and moved ahead of Bill Schindler in the race for the Eastern AAA title. The "Flying Dutchman" piloted his light blue racer around Lake-meadow park's one-mile track in 16:51.20. The old record was 16:59. Set here in 1949 by Johnny Maniz. A crowd of 12,000 watched.

Stroudsburg, Pa., Oct. 15 (AP)—The Class D. North Atlantic league has decided to operate next year provided two more baseball clubs come in before November 7. Because of high costs selective service and uncertain conditions generally, the league, formed in 1946, did not operate last year.

Stroudsburg, Hazleton and Berwick, Pa., and Frederick, Md., already have franchises. President Ernest Landgraf said. Two other members would be chosen at the meeting next month in Hazleton, probably from Chambersburg, Carlisle, Lebanon or Mahanoy City, Pa., or Phillipsburg, N. J. Landgraf said.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 15 (AP)—Conemaugh Township's stalwart football team held its lead in the Western conference today while Bellwood-Antis and DuBois forged into a tie in points for second place.

All three have perfect records so far. Bellwood-Antis has won six games to four for Conemaugh and three for DuBois. But the weighted point standings give Conemaugh 180 points for 150 each for Bellwood-Antis and DuBois.

Harrisburg, Oct. 15 (AP)—Indiana held to a 20-20 tie Saturday by Edinboro for the first: blamish of its 1951 record, still managed to keep first place in the Pennsylvania State Teachers' College conference.

Indiana now has 360 points in the new 14-team league—50 more than runner-up Bloomsburg, which won its third in a row over Millersville, 40-15, Saturday.

Unbeaten List Being Cut Down

Harrisburg, Oct. 15 (AP)—Twenty-three major unbeaten, untied eleven are pacing Pennsylvania's scholastic football teams at the half-way mark of the 1951 campaign. The all-winning leaders are:

East—Berwick, Coal Township, Easton, Kulpmont, Larksville, Lower Merion, Sayreville, Tamaqua and West Scranton.

Central—Gettysburg and Lewis-town.

West—Ambridge, Bellwood-Antis, Conestoga Township, Dubois, Duquesne, Erie, Cathedral Prep, Greensburg, Jeannette, Johnstown, Canby, Munhall, Uniontown and Washington.

Missing from the list for the first time are Allquippa, Allentown and Pottsville. They suffered their first 1951 setbacks over the week-end.

Allquippa's 12-6 loss to Ambridge was the costliest for it eliminated the highly-rated Indians from the WPIAL Class AA title race. Allentown was blanked by Phillipsburg, N. J., 18-0, and Pottsville by Lebanon 33-7 in non-league traditional matches.

Once-untied Bethlehem also was bounced from the unbeaten list when Reading's one-beaten Red Knights came from behind to win, 26-21.

However, three longest unbeaten streaks survived the week-end's action. Lower Merion won its 17th game in a row—longest winning streak in the state for major schools—by coming from behind to stop Haverford 25-21. Coal Township won its 25th game without a loss—has been led by beating Blythe Township, 39-0. Class B Bell Township ran its winning streak to 28 by downing East Deer, 20-7.

Between 1949 and 1950 the domestic truck airlines increased their business about 640 per cent.

Since 1939 the railway passenger industry has piled up a deficit of more than two billion dollars.

A Southern Conference surprise was William and Mary's 7-6 win over Wake Forest, while the same circuit had expected Duke to win by more than 27-21 against North Carolina State.

Sports Roundup
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—The University of Virginia faculty is demanding full control of athletics—along with a demand for "less professional" teams—that the U. of Nebraska profs want de-emphasis, and at William and Mary the faculty is squawking because it wasn't consulted in naming a new college president as the aftermath of an athletic mess . . . Only thing we want to know is whether the profs would put the football coach and athletic director in charge of the department of romance languages or chemistry . . . Seems like it would be an even trade.

10 Cars Pile Up In Langhorne Crash

Langhorne, Pa., Oct. 15 (AP)—A pileup of 10 cars traveling 80 miles an hour injured 10 drivers and forced a halt on the 83rd lap of Sunday's championship 100-mile National Sportsman race at Langhorne speedway.

About 10,000 witnessed three accidents in which the drivers were hurt, one seriously, before the race was stopped and Dick Eagan, Springfield, Mass., named winner.

Don Black of Mt. Tabor, N. J., suffered compound fractures of the right leg and ankle, skull injuries and severe cuts in the last crash. He was taken to Mercer hospital, Trenton, N. J., in serious condition. The pileup began when Black's car turned over while making a turn. He collided with a car driven by Wally Campbell, Trenton, and Campbell's car went up in flames. Smoke blocked the vision of other drivers who rammed into the disabled cars. Five other drivers were treated at trackside after the accident.

Between 1940 and 1950 the passenger-carrying railroads increased their business about 30 percent.

Fairfield Wins 1st Playoff Game 4-3

The Fairfield Shoe company team scored a run in the last of the ninth inning to defeat Harney 4-3 Sunday afternoon at Fairfield in the first of the best-of-three series for the playoff title of the Pennsylvania Baseball league.

A runner scored from third base when the Harney catcher missed the third strike on what would have been the final out to provide the margin. George Seiferd hurried for the winners with John Dick receiving.

Next Sunday the series will resume at Harney.

MOUNT NAMES CAGE CAPTAINS

Two juniors have been elected to lead the Mount St. Mary's cagemen for the coming year. Ted Kachowski and Jim McKeon will co-captain the team from guard positions.

Kachowski is 23 years old and hails from New Britain, Conn. He has already won two varsity basketball letters. After playing at New Britain high, Ted played two years with Aberdeen Proving Ground and then captained the 2nd Army team at Ft. Meade, Md., during 1947-48. During his two seasons as a regular at the Mount Ted has averaged over 10 points per game. He is an excellent set shot.

McKeon was a surprise choice as co-captain. An all-state choice at Thomas Edison high in Elizabeth, N. J., Jim won letters at the Mount during his freshman and sophomore years. Last year, however, McKeon dropped out of school to work. Back this year as a junior he has looked well in early practices. Touted as a fine court man and reliable set shot, McKeon has begun to live up to the reputation that preceded him at the Mount. Kachowski and McKeon have their jobs cut out for them with this year's Mountaineers since the team has very little actual game experience and is very small.

The loss of last year's stars Gene Janis, Les Cosgrove, Ed Flanagan and Jim Montgomery strips the squad of its rebound strength, its scoring power, and much of its defensive ability.

SEEKS HELP ON TAX PROBLEMS

Harrisburg, Oct. 15 (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine has asked Pennsylvania's four largest state-aided colleges to help find a solution to the state's financial problems.

The governor sent telegrams over the week-end to the heads of the Pennsylvania State college, the University of Pennsylvania, Temple university and the University of Pittsburgh to set up a joint study of the revenue and tax problems.

"This situation very directly and seriously affects some universities and colleges of the state as well as the hospitals, schools and many other state services," the governor said in the telegram.

In other tax developments:

Sen. John J. Haluska (D-Camden), Democratic Senate whip, said in Harrisburg yesterday that he was offered "enough that I would not have to work for the rest of my life if I would withdraw my opposition to the income tax measure."

Six southeastern Pennsylvania Republican leaders including Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood held a four-hour closed meeting at an inn near Ambler but Wood said the income tax question was not discussed.

CANNERS DROP 20-6 VERDICT TO WEST YORK

Led by two touchdown jaunts by Dick Wakeland, the West York high gridgers downed the Biglerville high eleven 20-6 in a Conference of the Roses game played Saturday afternoon on the West York gridiron.

In the opening period Wakeland got off on a 55-yard touchdown jaunt and Harbold booted the extra point to give the Bulldogs a 7-0 advantage.

The Canners fought back strongly in the second period and marched 50 yards for a score, Bud Warner registering the tally on a 20-yard run. The try for the point failed.

West York scored again in the third frame when Wakeland plunged over from the 1-yard line and Harbold converted via a placement.

The Bulldogs continued to dominate play in the final quarter and added their third touchdown when Brown broke through the line.

It was announced Saturday that West York will switch from the Conference of the Roses to the Laurel conference next season.

Next Friday night the Canners return to their home field when they are host to Manheim in another conference game.

Atlanta, Oct. 15 (AP)—Tommy Hinnershitz of Reading, Pa., posted a new world record for a 25-mile flat dirt track auto race yesterday and moved ahead of Bill Schindler in the race for the Eastern AAA title. The "Flying Dutchman" piloted his light blue racer around Lakewood park's one-mile track in 16:51.20. The old record was 16:59, set here in 1949 by Johnny Mantz. A crowd of 12,000 watched.

Stroudsburg, Pa., Oct. 15 (AP)—The Class D North Atlantic league has decided to operate next year provided two more baseball clubs come in before November 7. Because of high costs, selective service and uncertain conditions generally, the league, formed in 1946, did not operate last year.

Stroudsburg, Hazleton and Berwick, Pa., and Frederick, Md., already have franchises. President Ernest Landgraf said. Two other members would be chosen at the meeting next month in Hazleton, probably from Chambersburg, Carlisle, Lebanon or Mahanoy City, Pa., or Phillipsburg, N. J., Landgraf said.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 15 (AP)—Conemaugh Township's stalwart football team held its lead in the Western conference today while Bellwood-Antis and DuBois forged into a tie in points for second place.

All three have perfect records so far. Bellwood-Antis has won six games to four for Conemaugh and three for DuBois. But the weighted point standings give Conemaugh 180 points for 150 each for Bellwood-Antis and DuBois.

Harrisburg, Oct. 15 (AP)—Indiana, held to a 20-20 tie Saturday by Edinboro for the first blemish of its 1951 record, still managed to keep first place in the Pennsylvania State Teachers' College conference.

Indiana now has 360 points in the new 14-team league—50 more than runner-up Bloomsburg, which won its third in a row over Millersville, 40-15, Saturday.

Shippensburg, which downed East Stroudsburg, 33-7, is in third place with 220 points—20 more than its beaten opponent. In the only other game of the week-end, West Chester won its first start with a 35-6 decision over Lock Haven.

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—The number of crimes committed rose 5.1 per cent in American cities and 4 per cent in the rural areas in first-half 1951 as compared with the same period in 1950, the FBI reported yesterday. The report also showed that arrests of minor girls for "offenses against common decency" (prostitution, commercialized vice, disorderly conduct, vagrancy, etc.) rose 12.6 per cent and that "more persons 23 years of age were arrested during the first half of 1951 than any other age group."

Santa Cruz, Calif., Oct. 15 (AP)—The Santa Cruz Golden Wedding club had a brand new wedding to celebrate today. Samuel Jackson Guyton, 87, was married yesterday to Mrs. Florence Emogene Hart, 79. Their first mates were dead. Guyton won his first marriage lasted 61 years and his bride's 53.

Signs Pay Raise For County Officials

Harrisburg, Oct. 15 (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine today signed legislation granting down-the-line pay increases for elected officials in 66 Pennsylvania counties. The pay boosts affect all counties except Philadelphia increasing salaries an estimated 25 per cent.

The increases, varying according to class of county, affect such posts as district attorney, sheriff, treasurer, county commissioner, register of wills, controller, coroner, prothonotary and others.

The increase estimated to cost the counties an additional $1,000,000 annually in salary expenditures will not affect officials now in office. The increase will be granted persons going into office on January 1.

Unbeaten List Being Cut Down

Harrisburg, Oct. 15 (AP)—Twenty-three major unbeaten, untied eleven are pacing Pennsylvania's schoolboy football teams at the halfway mark of the 1951 campaign.

The all-winning leaders are: East—Berwick, Coal Township, Easton, Kulpmont, Larksville, Lower Merion, Swoyersville, Tamaqua and West Scranton.

Central—Gettysburg and Lewis town.

West—Ambridge, Bellwood-Antis, Conemaugh Township, Dubois, Dupquesne, Erie Cathedral Prep, Greensburg, Jeannette, Johnstown Catholic, Munhall, Uniontown and Washington.

Missing from the list for the first time are Alliquippa, Allentown and Pottsville. They suffered their first 1951 setbacks over the week-end.

Alliquippa's 12-6 loss to Ambridge was the costliest for it eliminated the highly-rated Indians from the WPIAL Class AA title race. Allentown was blanked by Phillipsburg, N. J., 18-0, and Pottsville by Lebanon, 33-26, in non-league traditional rivalries.

Once-tied Bethlehem also was bounced from the unbeaten list when Reading's one-beaten Red Knicks came from behind to win, 26-21.

However, three longest unbeaten streaks survived the week-end's action. Lower Merion won its 17th game in a row—longest winning streak in the state for major schools—by coming from behind to stop Haverford, 26-21. Coal Township won its 25th game without a loss—it has been tied—by beating Blythe township, 39-0. Class B Bell Township ran its winning streak to 28 by downing East Deer, 20-7.

Between 1940 and 1950 the domestic truck airlines increased their business about 640 percent.

Since 1939 the railway passenger industry has piled up a deficit of more than two billion dollars.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

CLASS

A commentator on the radio made a remark about the New York Yankees that set me thinking. He said there was something about this ball club that set it apart, and that he had no other name for it than the word—class. During the past season, time and again, this team of players has proved that it has just that—class. Perhaps that is the secret of its three-time championship!

This thing of class, however, is not confined to any sort of organization. It spreads itself around in many places. It shows in the victories of a finely bred race horse. And it shows in individuals. We speak of a man as a fine gentleman, but what we mean is that he has class as a human being, without boast or snobishness, able and honest as well as sincere.

A beautifully furnished home, office, or even a town, can show that it has class. So can a skillfully and honestly built piece of furniture or other work of art. There is class in the work of the old masters of painting. That is why they live and will always live. A beautifully gowned woman shows class, and this class is a key to her character.

There are certain writers whose work shows class. Not merely in style and skill, but in soul. Writers who seem to have written for the ages. Their books never going out of style, for they were not written for style but for permanent inspiration and enjoyment. Writers like W. H. Hudson, Stevenson, Galsworthy, Thoreau, Dickens, and a host of others wrote because they had to write to give expression to their class, though they were unconscious of the fact.

A fine athlete, performing, always shows his class. It is as much a part of him as his well-trained muscles. Even a city shows its class in the thriftiness of its people and their love of a beautiful place in which to live, with fine parks and playgrounds, library, hospital, churches, neatly kept streets, enterprising merchants, and the entire community proving its civic spirit. This class is something worth striving to attain!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Campus Hotel."

HOMEMADE BREAD

It doesn't come in paper waxed,

nor is it neatly sliced,

It's never on the grocer's shelf,

for sale it isn't priced.

You never hear it advertised

upon the radio

Nor is it ever pictured on a television show,

But nothing ever equals it when all is done and said.

For it's only little ovens that can turn out homemade bread.

The famous city bakers of their

million loaves may boast,

But the mother used to make them, six or seven at the most.

And the taste I still remember, if my memory I can trust,

Was just a little sweeter and much crispier was the crust.

Then it was an art to make.

Oh! I wonder is it dead?

Have the women all forgotten

how to bake us homemade bread?

I've watched the mighty ovens and the mixers run by power.

I know the city bakers all demand the finest flour.

But when it comes to kneading

I still hold by every test

On a small board in the kitchen mother's hands could do it best.

And there's nothing that is richer with butter

thickly spread.

And jam or jelly added, than a piece of homemade bread.

TWO BANKS ARE MILLION SHORT

New Kensington, Pa., Oct. 15 (AP)—

The two national banks in New Kensington are short over a million dollars today as the FBI arrested a fifth employee on embezzling charges that have shocked this industrial community.

The FBI seized George Rogers Shurella, 53, on Friday. The slight greying man worked his way up from messenger boy to assistant cashier of New Kensington's First National bank. FBI Agent Fred Halford said Shurella admitted misappropriation of $12,594.

Shurella is the fourth First National employee arrested since last Jan. 11 and the fifth in the town to be accused of embezzling federal bank funds. Halford said Shurella also admitted making an $81,324 false entry on the bank's cash sheet. The arrest brought the total to 10 the FBI has made in the western Pennsylvania-West Virginia area in a little more than a year.

Other charges involve Dennis V. Layfield, of Wood County bank, Parkersburg, W. Va., accused of embezzling $363,000; Samuel Paul Lewis, of Indiana, Pa., $48,479; Mrs. Goldie Caldwell, New Alexandria, Pa., $28,000; and Hildur Nyström, McKeesport, Pa., $3,900.

The government is also investigating a $1,300,000 shortage at the First National bank in Cecil, Pa. It was discovered about a year ago after bank cashier John F. Wagner committed suicide in front of the bank's vault.

Halford said the total shortage throughout the area will pass $3,000,000.

QUAKER TELLS OF RUSS TRIP

Philadelphia, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Russian standard of living is about the equivalent of that in England but Russian citizens "are entirely ignorant of conditions in the world outside," says a British Quaker.

Paul S. Cadbury, head of the century-old chocolate company of Cadbury and Fry in England, was one of seven British business and professional leaders—all Quakers—who asked permission to enter Russia on a peace mission. They spent two weeks in Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev in July as guests of the Russian government.

Cadbury reported on the mission on Friday to the American Friends Service committee.

He said of the Russians: "Every-one we met and nearly everyone we saw in our travels appeared contented and adequately clothed and fed."

Cadbury said the trip was requested on the strength of the Quakers' 370 years of opposition to war. He stated:

"The Russians do not want war. The Western world does not want war. Yet war is so close that we believe the time for talk is past, and peaceful action and example are called for."

CONGRESS SETS
SPENDING MARK

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—The present Congress has broken the peace-time record for the amount of money appropriated and still has four big appropriations to handle before it adjourns.

The bills passed by the Senate and sent to the White House Friday raised to $71,136,000,000 total funds approved thus far to run the government in the current fiscal year.

The previous high mark outside of a war year was $61,000,000,000 in fiscal 1951 which ended last June 30. The all-time record was set in fiscal 1943 in the midst of World War II Appropriations that year totaled $147,000,000,000.

The remaining four bills would add about $14,000,000,000 to the total already approved in the nine measures sent to President Truman.

Although this would take appropriations for fiscal 1952 up to the $85,000,000,000 mark, the Treasury estimates that actual spending for the year will run between $68,000,000,000 and $73,000,000,000. This is because many military items such as airplanes on which work is started in this fiscal year will not be completed and not paid for until much later.

THREE ENEMIES OF PEACH
TREES

Beginners in peach growing and owners of small orchards or a few backyard trees for home use may easily confuse their problems from attacks of the three main kinds of borers that infest peach trees in this latitude. Because late September is the proper time of the year to wage war on one of these enemies, it is advisable to learn more about all three.

The so-called Shot-Hole borer is described by its common name. It is a dark beetle whose work identifies it. The characteristic holes are the exit and entrance routes made by the adult beetle. Usually considerable gum exudes from these holes and growers may deem the damages far more serious and extensive than they actually are. Rarely do Shot-Hole borers kill peach trees, but of course, every wound they inflict and all gum they cause to ooze from the holes weaken infested trees. This enemy prefers to attack trees that have been weakened by other borers, scales, drought, diseases, starvation, or injury by careless pruning and other means.

Prevention or control of Shot-Hole borers is not difficult. In cases of light infestations they may often be ignored. But generally it is advisable to burn all pruning immediately after pruning operations are completed. All wounds should be treated promptly. Trees should be kept in vigorous condition by whatever cultural measures are necessary to that end. A heavy coating of whitewash in the spring will reduce the number of borers from future broods but will not kill beetles already in the bark.

The Lesser peach tree borer is so-called to distinguish it from the large borer that infests the trunk base and main roots. The Lesser borer generally infests the upper portion of the trunk and larger limbs. Invariably it is found working where the bark has been injured by cultivation implements, trace chains, sun scald, cankers, crotch splits or other means. It passes the winter as a larva (grub) within the inner bark. There may be two or more broods of Shot-Hole borers in this latitude but only one of the Lesser borer. Control is obtained by avoidance of all bark abrasions and prompt treatment of all wounds. Individual borers may be cut out at this time of the year if the work is done with care to avoid severe injuries. Peach tree owners will find full details of treatment in Farmers' Bulletin 1861—Insect Pests of the Peach, which they may obtain free on request to their congressman. And, by the way, every peach grower should have a copy of this instructive publication.

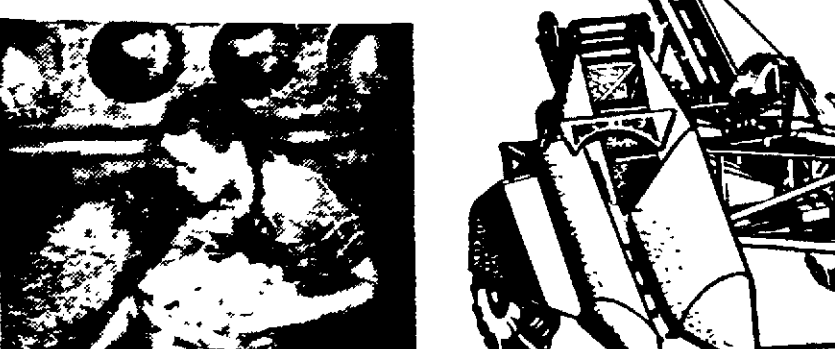

The large borer already mentioned is the insect usually referred to under the general name of "peach borer." It is by far the most destructive enemy of peach trees. The parent is a beautifully marked moth. The larva or grub is a yellowish to whitish borer that measures about an inch in length when fully grown. It is easy to identify by its reddish brown head. Eggs are laid in the soil near the trunk base or on the trunk bark in late summer. These hatch into tiny larvae in a few days. Until they pupate to turn into moths again the larvae feed in the cambium layer—live bark—of the trunk base and main roots. Combat must be waged between September 15 and 30 in this latitude. Growers may obtain full details by writing the editor or by consulting the county farm agent.

PERENNIALS BENEFIT FROM
FALL PLANTING

Perennials planted this fall will start into growth earlier next spring than those planted at that time and will generally make a finer show of flower their first year, says J. W. Johnston in the New York Herald Tribune.

Now that the fall rains have come, conditions should be ideal in the vicinity of New York for transplanting operations extending through the next month.

First consideration should be given to the varieties that flower in early spring, as fall planting is almost imperative for these if a good flower display is to be realized. Such items as the early flowering phlox, doricum and columbine start into growth with the first crack of spring, and if already in the soil will make fine growth.

While waiting for the arrival of plants from the plantman or nurseryman, some soil preparation should be done. A perennial planting placed in properly prepared soil will give little trouble for a three-year period during which it will need added plant food and cultivation, but not much else other than an occasional spraying or dusting. A good soil conditioning to a depth of eight to ten inches will support most of the garden perennials in fine fashion. A medium to sandy loam soil with sufficient drainage is the ideal condition for most of them. Heavy soils, lightened by the addition of sand or peat and light and heavy soils tested refuse in late fall definitely solves the squash borer problem. Deep plowing in late fall or during mild periods over winter will expose and destroy white grubs.

Bagworms, the spectacular foes of many ornamental shrubs and shade trees, live from year to year in the bags which mark their homes. These should be gathered and burned after leaves fall and the nests become easily visible.

Eastern tent caterpillar eggs may be found encircling the twigs of trees and deciduous shrubs after leaves drop. By removing and burning these egg masses or coating them with creosote in late fall the caterpillar population will be greatly reduced the next spring.

In these and other similar phases of insect combat in the fall, neighbors should be induced to join. Community-wide combat pays big dividends in this war.

Hardy 'Mums May Be Moved In Fall

It is possible to have flower color where you want it in the late season garden. Clumps of hardy chrysanthemums moved late in the fall have a good chance to survive if taken up with a solid ball of soil. Do not keep them out of their natural contact with Mother Earth longer than necessary. Firm replanting is imperative and the full sole of the shoe should be used to press the soil into close contact with the sides of the rootball. Of course, no transplanting should be done while the soil is wet. After planting give a thorough watering to settle the soil. Should the weather remain dry for more than a week, apply another thorough soaking that will penetrate the rootball and surrounding earth.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

CLASS

A commentator on the radio made a remark about the New York Yankees that set me to thinking. He said there was something about this ball club that set it apart, and that he had no other name for it than the word—class. During the past season, time and again, this team of players has proved that it has just that—class. Perhaps that is the secret of its three-time championship!

This thing of class, however, is not confined to any sort of organization. It spreads itself around in many places. It shows in the victories of a finely bred race horse. And it shows in individuals. We speak of a man as a fine gentleman, but what we mean is that he has class as a human being, without boast or snobishness, able and honest as well as sincere.

A beautifully furnished home, office, or even a town, can show that it has class. So can a skillfully and honestly built piece of furniture or other work of art. There is class to the work of the old masters of painting. That is why they live and will always live. A beautifully gowned woman shows class, and this class is a key to her character.

There are certain writers whose work shows class. Not merely in style and skill, but in soul. Writers who seem to have written for the ages. Their books never going out of style, but for permanent inspiration and enjoyment. Writers like W. H. Hudson, Stevenson, Galsworthy, Thoreau, Dickens, and a host of others wrote because they had to write to give expression to their class, though they were unconscious of the fact. A fine athlete, performing, always shows his class. It is as much a part of him as his well-trained muscles. Even a city shows its class in the thriftiness of its people and their love of a beautiful place in which to live, with fine parks and playgrounds, library, hospital, churches, neatly kept streets, enterprising merchants, and the entire community proving its civic spirit. This class is something worth striving to attain!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Campus Hotel."

HOMEMADE BREAD

It doesn't come in paper waxed, nor is it neatly sliced. It's never on the grocer's shelf, for sale it isn't priced. You never hear it advertised upon the radio. Nor is it ever pictured on a television show. But nothing ever equals it when all is done and said. For it's only little ovens that can turn out homemade bread.

The famous city bakers of their million loaves may boast, But the mother used to make them, six or seven at the most. And the taste I still remember, if my memory I can trust, Was just a little sweeter and much crisper was the crust. Then it was an art to make. Oft I wonder is it dead? Have the women all forgotten how to bake us homemade bread?

I've watched the mighty ovens and the mixers run by power. I know the city bakers all demand the finest flour. But when it comes to kneading I still hold by every test. On a small board in the kitchen mother's hands could do it best. And there's nothing that is richer with butter thickly spread. And jam or jelly added, than a piece of homemade bread.

Agricultural Hall, by the "Tar-Heeled Minstrels," for the benefit of the Brunswick sufferers was a very creditable performance, and was enjoyed by all present. The audience was quite large and appreciated the skill with which the different parts were rendered. The company has only been recently organized and had very little practice, but they all seemed to be perfectly at home. The judgement of all who heard them was that the Gettysburg amateurs are greatly superior to many of the professional troupes which travel the country.

The young men engaged in the performance deserve the thanks of the community for their efforts in behalf of the noble charity, to which the proceeds of the performance were devoted.

TWO BANKS ARE MILLION SHORT

New Kensington, Pa., Oct. 15 (AP)—The two national banks in New Kensington are short over a million dollars today as the FBI arrested a fifth employee on embezzling charges that have shocked this industrial community.

The FBI seized George Rogers Shiarella, 53, on Friday. The slight greying man worked his way up from messenger boy to assistant cashier of New Kensington's First National bank. FBI Agent Fred Halford said Shiarella admitted misappropriation of $12,594.

Shiarella is the fourth First National employee arrested since last Jan. 11 and the fifth in the town to be accused of embezzling federal bank funds. Halford said Shiarella also admitted making an $81,324 false entry on the bank's cash sheet. The arrest brought the total to 10 the FBI has made in the western Pennsylvania-West Virginia area in little more than a year.

Other charges involve Dennis V. Layfield, of Wood County bank, Parkersburg, W. Va., accused of embezzling $363,000; Samuel Paul Lewis, of Indiana, Pa., $48,479; Mrs. Goldie Caldwell, New Alexandria, Pa., $28,000; and Hildur Nystrom, McKeesport, Pa., $3,900.

The government is also investigating a $1,300,000 shortage at the First National bank in Cecil, Pa. It was discovered about a year ago after bank cashier John F. Wagner committed suicide in front of the bank's vault.

Halford said the total shortage throughout the area will pass $3,000,000.

QUAKER TELLS OF RUSS TRIP

Philadelphia, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Russian standard of living is about the equivalent of that in England but Russian citizens "are entirely ignorant of conditions in the world outside," says a British Quaker.

Paul S. Cadbury, head of the century-old chocolate company of Cadbury and Fry in England, was one of seven British business and professional leaders—all Quakers—who asked permission to enter Russia on a peace mission. They spent two weeks in Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev in July as guests of the Russian government.

Cadbury reported on the mission on Friday to the American Friends Service committee. He said of the Russians: "Every one we met and nearly everyone we saw in our travels appeared contented and adequately clothed and fed."

Cadbury said the trip was requested on the strength of the Quakers' 300 years of opposition to war. He stated:

"The Russians do not want war. The Western world does not want war. Yet war is so close that we believe the time for talk is past, and peaceful action and example are called for."

CONGRESS SETS SPENDING MARK

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—The present Congress has broken the peace-time record for the amount of money appropriated and still has four big appropriations to handle before it adjourns.

The bills passed by the Senate and sent to the White House Friday raised to $71,136,000,000 total funds approved thus far to run the government in the current fiscal year.

The previous high mark outside of a war year was $61,000,000,000 in fiscal 1951 which ended last June 30. The all-time record was set in fiscal 1943 in the midst of World War II. Appropriations that year totaled $147,000,000,000.

The remaining four bills would add about $14,000,000,000 to the total already approved in the nine measures sent to President Truman. Although this would take appropriations for fiscal 1952 up to the $85,000,000,000 mark, the Treasury estimates that actual spending for the year will run between $68,000,000,000 and $73,000,000,000. This is because many military items such as airplanes on which work is started in this fiscal year will not be completed and not paid for until much later.

POOR LITTLE SAMBO
Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP)—Is little black Sambo a hero to children? Or does his story harm race relations? The Rochester branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has asked Rochester schools to throw out the children's book. The group says Sambo is "not good for human relations and democratic principles."

Rome, Oct. 15 (AP)—The big Milan news magazine Tempo (Time) said today the body of Benito Mussolini, recovered from grave-robbing five years ago, now is buried in the wall of a 14th century Pavia monastery. The government maintained silence on the report but it made big headlines in Italian newspapers.

The Fascist leader's body has been a pawn of politics since he was shot down by partisans while trying to flee to Germany in 1945, and hacked and hanged by the heels from a lamppost in Milan's Piazzale Loreto. His mistress' body was similarly handled.

THREE ENEMIES OF PEACH TREES

Beginners in peach growing and owners of small orchards or a few backyard trees for home use may easily confuse their problems from attacks of the three main kinds of borers that infest peach trees in this latitude. Because late September is the proper time of the year to wage war on one of these enemies, it is advisable to learn more about all three.

The so-called Shot-Hole borer is described by its common name. It is a dark beetle whose work identifies it. The characteristic holes are the exit and entrance routes made by the adult beetle. Usually considerable gum exudes from these holes and growers may deem the damages far more serious and extensive than they actually are. Rarely do Shot-Hole borers kill peach trees, but of course, every wound they inflict and all gum they cause to ooze from the holes weaken infested trees. This enemy prefers to attack trees that have been weakened by other borers, scales, drought, diseases, starvation, or injury by careless pruning and other means.

Prevention or control of Shot-Hole borers is not difficult. In cases of light infestations they may often be ignored. But generally it is advisable to burn all pruning immediately after pruning operations are completed. All wounds should be treated promptly. Trees should be kept in vigorous condition by whatever cultural measures are necessary to that end. A heavy coating of whitewash in the spring will reduce the number of borers from future broods but will not kill beetles already in the bark.

The Lesser peach tree borer is so-called to distinguish it from the large borer that infests the trunk base and main roots. The Lesser borer generally infests the upper portion of the trunk and larger limbs. Invariably it is found working where the bark has been injured by cultivation implements, croch chains, sun scald, cankers, croch splits or other means. It passes the winter as a larva (grub) within the inner bark. There may be two or more broods of Shot-Hole borers in this latitude but only one of the Lesser borer. Control is obtained by avoidance of all bark abrasions and prompt treatment of all wounds. Individual borers may be cut out at this time of the year if the work is done with care to avoid severe injuries. Peach tree owners will find full details of treatment in Farmers' Bulletin 1861—Insect Pests of the Peach, which they may obtain free on request to their congressman. And, by the way, every peach grower should have a copy of this instructive publication.

The large borer already mentioned is the insect usually referred to under the general name of "peach borer." It is by far the most destructive enemy of peach trees. will be improved by the addition of a generous quantity of some form of organic matter. For this purpose well rotted manures, compost or commercial humus are fine additions.

Most perennials relish a soil that is neutral or in some cases slightly acid. This may be regulated either way by the use of lime to sweeten and peat or sulphur to increase the acid content. A small soil testing kit will pay its cost many times over in revealing the degree of acidity or alkalinity at all times.

"No Positive Plan For Peace," says Warburg

York, Pa., Oct. 15 (AP)—Members of the Southern district, Pennsylvania State Education association, were told here that the United States is "unwilling to turn the United Nations into a force to make universal disarmament."

"Our economy is geared to war production and if it were to stop today we would fall flat on our faces," said James P. Warburg, author and banker.

He said that as a result of rearmament bolstering our economy the United States has a vested interest in not having peace.

"Everyone wants peace, but we have no positive plan for peace," Warburg told nearly 2,000 delegates to the Southern district convention Friday night.

He said current policy is based on the premise that the present crisis and evils of the world exist only because of Soviet Russia and communism. "All the evils of the world today would still be with us if communism or Soviet Russia had never existed," he added.

Use Balloons For Stratosphere Research

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—Some giant-sized plastic balloons visible at 100,000 feet on clear days are being sent aloft by the air force in its research into conditions in the stratosphere.

The project started last May, and two balloons are being floated weekly now. When the operation gets into full year three will be sent aloft every day.

The air force put out this information yesterday. The balloons, it said, should not be confused with flying saucers, of which military officials say there aren't any.

At least 40 daily publications appear in New York city.

54 COMMUNITIES VOTE FOR MOVIES

Harrisburg, Oct. 15 (AP)—Fifty-four Pennsylvania communities will ballot in the Nov. 6 election on whether to permit Sunday movies.

The only local option contest on Sunday sports will be held in Westfield borough where voters will ballot on whether or not to keep football from being played on Sunday.

The Lord's Day Alliance is leading a statewide campaign to keep the movie houses closed on Sundays. "Anything which interferes with the church and her work is injurious to our American way of life," the Alliance said in a statement.

The Rev. Melvin M. Forney, Philadelphia general chairman of the church group, said the large number of communities voting on Sunday movies is due in part "to the popularity of the drive-in theatre."

"This will make a difficult campaign as many of these smaller communities are separated from concentrated activity and will be decided by scattered votes," Forney added.

Sunday movies referenda will be held in these communities in Adams county, Oxford township and Franklin township.

"No Positive Plan For Peace," says Warburg

York, Pa., Oct. 15 (AP)—Members of the Southern district, Pennsylvania State Education association, were told here that the United States is "unwilling to turn the United Nations into a force to make universal disarmament."

"Our economy is geared to war production and if it were to stop to-day we would fall flat on our faces," said James P. Warburg, author and banker.

He said that as a result of rearmament bolstering our economy the United States has "a vested interest in not having peace."

"Everyone wants peace, but we have no positive plan for peace," Warburg told nearly 2,000 delegates to the Southern district convention Friday night.

He said current policy is based on the premise that the present crisis and evils of the world exist only because of Soviet Russia and communism. "All the evils of the world today would still be with us if communism or Soviet Russia had never existed," he added.

Lisbon, Portugal, Oct. 15 (AP)—A million Roman Catholic pilgrims at the little town of Fatima participated in overnight services that mark the official ending of the 1951 Year of the Virgin.

This is the 34th anniversary of

New Oxford

Eernard Joseph Moore, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Moore, has recovered after suffering with an indisposition last week.

Mass at the local Catholic church is being offered at 8 a.m. each school day morning during October, the month of the Holy Rosary, and parochial school children are attending each day in a body and reciting the Rosary together during mass.

For the convenience of those who cannot attend mass at this hour, the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor, is distributing Holy Communion at 6:45 a.m. on these days.

A son, their fourth child, was born this week to Mr. and Mrs. Regis the day on which, according to Catholic belief, the Blessed Virgin appeared to three shepherds of Fatima with a message exhorting the faithful to strive for the salvation of Russia.

Use Balloons For Stratosphere Research

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—Some giant-sized plastic balloons visible at 100,000 feet on clear days are being sent aloft by the air force in its research into conditions in the stratosphere.

The project started last May, and two balloons are being floated weekly now. When the operation gets into full year, three will be sent aloft every day.

The air force put out this information yesterday. The balloons, it said, should not be confused with flying saucers, of which military officials say there aren't any.

Why Thousands of Doctors prescribe pleasant tasting

PERTUSSIN FOR BAD COUGHS

CAUSED BY COLDS

Pertussin acts at once to relieve coughs, raspy throat and hoarseness—when caused by colds. It also increases natural secretions in the throat and bronchial tubes to help loosen thick, sticky phlegm and make it easier to raise.

Pertussin is safe and mighty effective for both old and young. Pleasant tasting and inexpensive.

Now—the prestige of a Packard is only "Pennies-per-Day" away!

Packard is holding the line on prices!

RESULT: The price difference between a lesser car, and a new 1951 Packard—on a time payment basis—has now been whittled down to mere pennies-per-day!

And what a whale of a difference those pennies can make in the long-lasting pleasure and prestige your money buys!

Just measure the difference in terms of incredibly smooth performance—from thrifty, and service-free Packard Thunderbolt Engines, America's highest-compression engines. In terms of restful, roadworthy safety—from the famed Packard Limousine Ride. In terms of everything you prize most in a motor car!

Definitely, the more you measure the difference, the more you'll realize that your thriftest long-range buy is the finest-built car of them all—the new 1951 Packard. Come see it

The big parade of industries is to Pennsylvania!

INDUSTRIES OF ALL TYPES are on the march into Pennsylvania. New plants are going up in many Pennsylvania communities. Established plants are being expanded. This means more security for the nation . . . more safety for our people . . . more long-range business for Pennsylvania.

WE'VE GOT A HEAD START ON A BETTER FUTURE!

All industry likes Pennsylvania because Pennsylvania is tops in just about everything industry wants—raw materials . . . power . . . skilled labor . . . markets . . . transportation . . . living and recreational facilities.

Right now there is one of the greatest periods of industrial expansion in Pennsylvania history.

Pennsylvania leads the nation with over two billion dollars being invested in new or increased plant facilities.

LET'S DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT!

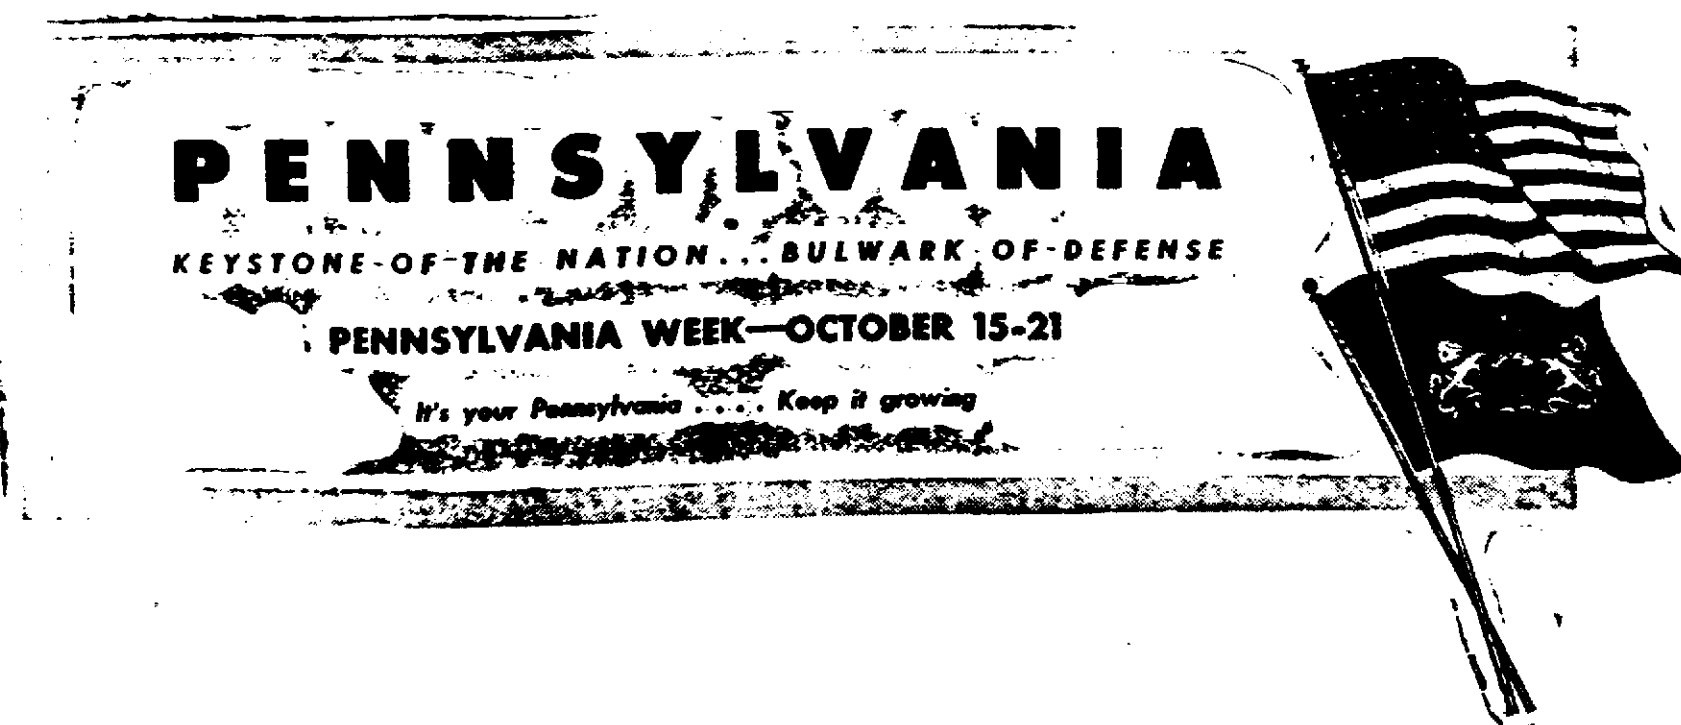

Maybe our area has the things these industries are looking for. Maybe we could interest one of them in coming to our town. Pennsylvania Week is the time to find out. Let's study ourselves . . . see what we have . . . line up prospective industries . . . tell them our story.

That's what other communities all over Pennsylvania are doing to attract new industry, to assure a bright future in the years ahead.

Our own future is up to us. Let's do something about it during Pennsylvania Week.

NEW BORN BABY IS STOLEN FROM HOSPITAL CRIB

Michigan City, Ind., Oct. 15.—(AP)—A new-born boy vanished mysteriously from his crib in St. Anthony's hospital Saturday and his grief-stricken parents pleaded that he be returned.

The infant, Lawrence James Lyons, was born by caesarian section last Tuesday to Mrs. Frances Lyons.

His disappearance touched off a widespread search on both sides of Indiana. Illinois and Michigan. In Michigan City, police carried on a grim search of garbage cans and sewers and questioned countless persons. But they said they still were virtually without clues.

Meanwhile, the child's bewildered father James, a 37-year-old service station operator and the pain-wracked mother hoped their plea to take care of their baby and bring him back would be heeded.

Asked For Baby
 Police discounted the possibility that the Lyons baby was taken by someone who just wanted a baby—no baby. The boy was in a row of cribs with others on both sides in the nursery.

Police said a nurse said, Marlene Lutz, told them someone asked her which baby was the Lyons baby. That was less than two hours before another nurse said she noticed the empty crib.

It took her whether and that whether that baby meant, Police Chief Arthur Merkle said.

Miss Lutz couldn't give any clues to the identity of the inquirer.

"I didn't even look around," she said. "I was so busy, I just pointed to the baby. I don't even remember it was a man or woman."

Makes Radio Plea
 Kidnaping for ransom seemed unlikely, Lyons said he has no money and no enemies.

Choking up so that he could hardly talk, Lyons went on radio station WJMS to describe the baby's formula and plead, "I'd like to say please take good care of our baby."

Don't harm him, and return him to the hospital, police station or to our home at 616 Wabash," Lyons begged.

He said in St. Anthony's, "I'm not going to return it unless I hear from you. I'm not resigning. You can put that in just as big letters as you want."

In 1924-25 the Indiana of Agricultural Experiment Station, Oxford, England, investigated the performance of a group of men as a means of generalizing the results.

Bill Boyle Quits; Gabrielson To Stay

Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The resignation of William M. Boyle, Jr., as chairman of the Democratic National committee isn't going to be followed by that of his Republican counterpart, GOP Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson says.

Boyle announced his resignation Saturday night, giving health as his reason, and indicated he would issue shortly—perhaps today—a call for the Democratic National committee to act on it.

Gabrielson, who like Boyle has been under attack from some quarters in Congress, was emphatic in saying he does not intend to step down.

"I'm not resigning," he said, "I'm not resigning."

PENNSYLVANIA WEEK — OCTOBER 15 TO 21, 1951

Pennsylvania Week is a time for merited appreciation of Pennsylvania's rich heritage. Even more important, it also is a time for united effort to improve that heritage for future generations.

We embark upon the sixth observance of Pennsylvania Week October 15th through October 21st at a time when our Nation and our State face one of the greatest challenges in all history. The American way of life indeed our Pennsylvania way of life must be reassessed, reappraised and reevaluated.

We should know more of the culture, the religion, the history, the natural resources, the industry and the commerce which have given this great Commonwealth its enviable prestige as the Keystone among States.

In our State the pioneering genius and practical skills, which always have distinguished Pennsylvanians, have created thousands of manufacturing plants whose amazing variety of processes and products have helped to build America and to keep it strong. Agriculture has made the Commonwealth a land of plenty since its earliest days. Our mines are among the richest source of minerals in the Nation. Our vast forests offer opportunities for recreation. Unrivaled picturesque scenery is so abundant as to become almost a commonplace. Our culture is deep-rooted and flourishing. Religious freedom has been the cornerstone of our Commonwealth since its founding. The most famous landmarks of our Nation's history are eternally enshrined in Pennsylvania. Busy cities and peaceful hamlets dot our landscapes from the Delaware to the Ohio.

This is the way of life which our defense program today will safeguard. This is the way of life which it is our responsibility to preserve and enrich for ourselves and our posterity. By familiarizing ourselves with the greatness, with the beauty and majesty of Pennsylvania, we shall better appreciate all that we have and all that we are. Our minds and heart will channel us to still better days, the days of our hopes and prayers.

Pennsylvania Week affords us opportunity to consider those things that can and should be done by every individual and by every community to meet the needs of improvement and civic aspirations. It is the time to emphasize that whatever progress we wish to attain for our children and our children's children depends by and large upon the efforts of all of us now.

Pennsylvania Week is a community enterprise, a grass roots effort to recapitulate the good things in our communities, to understand them and to move forward. The power of any state or nation depends upon its communities and its citizens. In Pennsylvania Week we have a spur to community action to the development of communal pride and a civic soul.

NOW, THEREFORE I, John S. Fine, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby designate and proclaim October 15 through 21, 1951, as the sixth annual Pennsylvania Week, to be observed by the citizens of our Commonwealth as a salute to a great State—a Titan of industry, a leader in agriculture, a haven of religious freedom, and the home of natural beauty, scenic wonders and historic shrines.

FURTHERMORE, I request that Pennsylvania Week be marked by county-wide and community programs and by appropriate exercises and activities to be held in educational institutions and in business, industrial, labor, farm, civic, fraternal, patriotic and religious organizations within the Commonwealth, to the end that Pennsylvania may be assured of continued growth and prosperity, with the energetic support of an enthusiastic, active and well-informed citizenry.

JOHN S. FINE
Governor

Harrisburg, Oct. 15 P — Shawnee State park, Bedford county, will be opened to the public next Wednesday as Pennsylvania's newest recreation area.

A formal dedication ceremony part of the Pennsylvania Week activities around the state will open the $2,000,000 park. M. F. Draemel, State Forests and Waters secretary, will preside.

Records indicate that windmills existed prior to the 12th century.

SCHOOLS HOLD RALLIES SUNDAY

The annual Rally Day service at Christ Evangelical and Reformed church on Sunday morning was well attended. The Rev. Dr. Dallas R. Krebs, Hanover, was the guest speaker and he complimented the congregation for their fine attendance. A good spirit in financial ingathering. The Rev. Dr. Krebs developed his theme along the line of Christian duty. He stated that "Every Christian should hold a secret life of prayer, live an open life to purity and allow his life to lend itself to active service."

The program opened with the congregation singing "Awakening Chorus" and "It Is Morning in My Heart." The scripture lesson St. John 9:1-18 was read by Mervin K. Myers, followed with prayer offered by the pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons. A solo, "God Bless This House," was sung by Miss Faye Ann Mummert. The offering was received in charge of Orville C. Sentz, general superintendent, who presided. The financial goal for the service was $500 for the benefit of the building fund. Harry C. Wildasin, treasurer of the school, read the following report: Total offering from classes and organizations, $616.68; from the late Elder George W. Berwager, $500, a total of $1,116.68. Mr. Sentz thanked those who made contributions toward the offering which was the highest on the record for Christ church. Lewis E. Bair was in charge of roll call after which the choir sang "Hymn to the Trinity."

A local trio composed of Mrs. Paul J. Mummert, Mrs. Wilmer F. Kessler and Miss Audrey J. Bankert sang "The Ninety and Nine." Mr. Sentz spoke briefly thanking all those who participated in making the service successful and also the program committee consisting of the pastor, Mervin L. Myers, Paul E. Berwager and Harold E. Shoemaker. The service closed with the congregation singing "Heavenly Sunlight" and "O That Will Be Glory" followed by the benediction pronounced by the Rev. Dr. Krebs, and the organ postlude. Serving as ushers for the service were John N. Sell, Mervin K. Myers, Laverne Rebert and Clyde L. Brown. The altar flowers were given by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Warner and family. Mrs. Alice E. Unger sponsored the Sunday bulletin in memory of her husband, Calvin N. Unger. The pastor announced that Mrs. Sarah E. Markle, a member of the congregation, died Saturday and will be buried today.

Robert Gouker, chairman of the program committee, presided. The Rev. Nathan Shuman, of Lebanon, Palestine, who is traveling in the interest of the Assyrian people, spoke briefly. Scripture was read by Harold Vessinger. A sextet composed of Joan Carl, Lou Etta Miller, E. Joann Oskul, Lou Etta Miller, Suzanne Long and Yvonne Weikert, all members of the Intermediate choir, under the direction of Robert B. DeGroot, sang "Whispering Hope."

This Baby Sitter Had Real Trouble

Los Angeles, Oct. 15 P — Baby sitters have to put up with a lot—battered television screens, lukewarm cokes, and some times, even crying babies. But Franklin Johnson, 18, made this complaint to police yesterday.

The child he was caring for locked him in the kitchen, where there was no back door.

He decided to climb out the kitchen window and crawl along the ledge to an open bedroom window. But he fell into a light well two floors below and he was hospitalized for ankle and back injuries.

This Baby Sitter Had Real Trouble

Los Angeles, Oct. 15 (AP) — Baby sitters have to put up with a lot—blurred television screens, lukewarm curries, and some times, even crying babies. But Franklin Johnson, 18, made this complaint to police yesterday.

The child he was caring for locked him in the kitchen, where there was no back door.

He decided to climb out the kitchen window and crawl along the ledge to an open bedroom window. But he fell into a light well two floors below and he was hospitalized for ankle and back injuries.
